‘Inclusive, Safe, Suitable’ from an Aboriginal Service Delivery Perspective

What we do

NSW Aboriginal Housing Office

- Our vision is to ensure every Aboriginal person in NSW has equal access to, and choice in, housing. This means accessible, culturally-appropriate and affordable housing.
- Secure housing can provide safety and stability in health, employment and education. All these factors help support Aboriginal people to thrive.

NSW Homelessness Strategy 2025-2035

The Strategy provides a whole-of-government blueprint, guiding agencies, the homelessness sector, and local communities to work toward shared outcomes.

A core element of the Strategy is its commitment to genuine partnership with Aboriginal people and communities.

Inclusive, Safe, Suitable

Housing First in NSW

- It's about wrapping the right support around individuals and families for as long as they need it and recognising that housing is a human right.
- A Housing First system is inclusive. It's built on the principle that a safe and suitable home, along with appropriate support, is essential to improving lives.

Our services – opportunities from an inclusive, safe and suitable perspective

Services Our Way

Finding Your Way

Client Experience Initiatives

Murdi Paaki Program

Community Partnership

- Local Decision Making
- Stolen Generation Organisations and Survivors
- Stakeholder relationships – creating environments of trust.
